PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Highly motivated and adaptable professional with diverse experience across three distinct industries, allowing me to develop a broad skill set and a strong work ethic. My ability to quickly learn and apply new technologies, problem-solving skills, and attention to detail make me an excellent candidate for a web developer role. I am eager to leverage my experience and technical expertise to contribute effectively to innovative web development projects.. Good listening abilities along with a personality that is focused on details and attentive. Previously a staff of Alpha Fox the student council for School of Computing (SOC)
